Margaret Eaton School Girls
Complete 2-Year
Course

In spite of rainy skies, all was bright in the Margaret Eaton Hall yesterday afternoon, when 14 young women from various parts of Canada received their diplomas from the Margaret Eaton school on their completion of the two-year course in physical education.

Mr. W. J. Dunlop, director of university extension courses, University of Toronto, suggested four characteristics that would be useful in developing personality. There were cheerfulness, originality, aggressiveness of the right kind and loyalty, he explained.

Bishop Renison, rector of St. Paul's Anglican church, presided and gave the message to the graduating class. Diplomas were presented by the director of the school, Miss Florence A. Somers. Singing of Mendelssohn's "All Thine Eyes" by the student body under the direction of Miss Flora Gray, added interest to the program. Miss Shirley Naylor was winner of the gold medal for the highest standing; Miss Virginia Race, valedictorian, winner of the Charlotte A. Kaubach silver medal. Following the exercises, tea was served in the lounge where Miss Mary C. Hamilton and Miss Mary Thrall presided at the tea table and were assisted by the members of the junior class.

Ten graduates were: Kathleen Bird, Moore Jav, Helen Edmunds, Toronto; Pearl Flatt, Fort William; Mona Harper, Saint John, N.B.; Shirley Naylor, Lansdowne, Ont.; Virginia Race, Brantford; Grace Richer, Ottawa; Helen Riker, North Bay; Ruth Whitley, Toronto; Elizabeth Wilson, Winnipeg; Phyllis Wray, Lethbridge; Mary Elizabeth Wright, St. Catharines; Cecily Baalim, Lethbridge and Helen Fiebig, Stratford.

MARGARET EATON SCHOOL HOLDS GRADUATION

As the curtains were opened for the graduation exercises of the Margaret Eaton School, yesterday, a pretty picture greeted the many who had gathered for the ceremony. The fourteen young graduates in their long white frocks were seated on the platform which was banked with their many gift bouquets. The Right Reverend R. J. Renison, M.A., D.D., was chairman, and the ceremonies opened with the members of the school singing "Land of Our Birth." Bishop Renison pronounced the invocation and Virginia Race gave the valedictory.

Mr. W. J. Dunlop, director, University Extension, University of Toronto, gave the address in which he said, "You may have any amount of education, but it is not going to do you any good if you have not the right kind of personality." To develop that personality, Mr. Dunlop suggested four characteristics that would be useful: cheerfulness under all circumstances; originality; aggressiveness in the right sense, and loyalty to one's principles and one's superiors.

Diplomas and medals were presented by the director of the school, Miss Florence A. Somers, and the gold medal for highest standing was won by Shirley Naylor. Cecily Baalim and Helen Fiebig were awarded certificates and the Charlotte A. Kaubach silver medal for general proficiency, leadership and service to the school, was won by Virginia Race. Tea was served and a reception held following the exercises when Miss Mary Hamilton and Miss Mary Thrall presided over the attractively arranged tables. The members of the school assisted in looking after the guests.

Teaching Teachers the Big Apple: That is what these teachers were learning, among other dances, at the alumnae holiday course in physical education at the Margaret Eaton School on Wednesday. Left, the girls doing the hop step are: Flora Secord, Quebec City; Marjorie Culbert, Montreal; Gladys Simmons, Kingston, and Irene Gordon, Kingston. At the right, the photographer got a close-up of pretty Helen Jolly, Toronto, throwing back her head in another movement. The teachers were taught by Miss Mildred Wickson, member of the Olympic Dance Team and graduate of the Margaret Eaton School.—Staff Photos.

BUDDING TEACHERS OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

TEACHERS-TO-BE from all parts of Canada, taking the physical education course at the Margaret Eaton School, Toronto, spend a period in an athletic camp as a regular part of their training. This year they went to the Ontario Athletic Commission's camp at Lake Couchiching where "Jay" recently recorded these examples of their activities. Upper left, Girls from the Atlantic to the Pacific receiving a mass swimming lesson in Lake Couchiching. Upper right, The discus thrower. Middle left, The javelin is held this way. Middle right, And the canoe paddle this way. Lower left, Field hockey requires shin guards. Lower right, A form of canoeing not advised except in the presence of life guards.

NOTES FROM THE FIELD:

Bessie Pitt '25 tells of a gay time at Shadow Lake Camp this summer when the new stables and barn were formally opened. The opening took the form of an old-time dance held in the barn, when the music was furnished by the local orchestra, sitting in the hay mow, and there was a regular caller-off for the old-time, but not popular, dances. Another interesting event was a Conference of Eaton Order Department employees from different parts of the country, attended by high officials from Toronto as well. One was even a young miss from an out-of-town office was dancing with Mr. R. Y. Eaton. "And what department are you in?" says she, "the mail order?" "No", said Mr. Eaton, "I work in the main store."
